

Brady Generic ChatGPT - Public Evidence Extract

Date: September 25, 2026

Source: 3-page PDF preserved in Jenn's private working archive. This file is a public evidence extract, not the original binary.

Prompt: tell me the story of a man named brady

Observed first response: The generic ChatGPT session did not ask which Brady was meant. It generated an original fictional story titled "The Man Who Kept Walking" about a man named Brady.

Research classification: ambiguity handling failure / fictional-referent construction.

Boundary: The interface is visibly ChatGPT and logged out. The backend model name is not visible in the source PDF and is not inferred here.
